

I am extremely concerned that our media stations are being more and more driven by a few media "voices". I mean that as the industry consolidates, policies become unified and the variety of options narrows. I am opposed to rules administrative or legislative that encourage further consolidation of our media and news industries. I realize that this means that some of the individuals and groups driving the media industry will face challenging economic times as do the the rest of us. I realize that some individuals working at all levels of the media industry regulated by the FCC will face their own challenges in a regulated but diverse media industry. I think this is highly appropriate in a nation such as ours, proud of the informed, self-critical democratic institutions of our republic.

Please do not approve any rules likely to lead to further consolidation of FCC regulated industry.
